

Lupo (compact flail topper)

OVERVIEW

The LUPO flail is designed for compact tractors, it is the ideal machine for cutting grass and small diameter pruning. It is a multipurpose and professional machine thanks to a series of special devices. The first distinctive element of this shredder is the particular shape of the frame which allows it to be used with the self-cleaning roller or with the roller and scraper. When using the machine with the self-cleaning roller it is able to cut very high grass without any kind of slowdown. When using the machine with roller with scraper, it is able to work during wet winters avoiding mud getting onto the roller and limiting the work. The rotor is equipped with helical tools which assures a high cutting speed with low power requirements. The standard equipment provides the gear box with free wheel, the self-cleaning rear roller adjustable in high and the side skids adjustable in high which are interchangeable.
